Mr. Ingram was such a blessing to everyone who met him. I loved the visits to school he made and I, of course, enjoyed the breakfast he helped prepare for us teachers at Christmas time! He was full of the Lord's light and raised his children to be the same way. He left a wonderful mark on the world and is now enjoying being with the Lord forever. It was an honor to know him.##imported-begin##Hayley Jones##imported-end##

My dear Renee: I just heard of your father's going home to be with the Lord. A prayer of comfort was just prayed to our Lord, Jesus Christ on behalf of of you and the faily of your father, Mr. Stanley Ingram. May God offer you peace and comfort as only HE can provide. May you embrace the company of all your loved ones during this time of fellowship as you remember your precious father and cherish the memories he has left with you all. As I looked at his picture I could surely see your face in his. Peace be with you until the day you are reunited with both your earthly and your heavenly father in heaven. As each of us seeks to have our life molded in the image of Jesus I know that WE are HIS most cherished creation and Renee, what a gift you are to so many.
