Aiden Woods posted:

I am Jeremy's nephew we spent more time together than many know but this man was just as much as a dad to me as he could be, on top of that he was my best friend and shoulder to cry on if I ever needed he was always there for me and made me the person I am today. I will forever live the life he told me to live no being scared of the future because it is what I make it. I know he is watching me and guiding me though this life and I love my uncle Jeremy and my best friend.
