“ Debbie; my dear life-long friend, i know that you're safe and free from pain now. I know that you're with Bob & your awesome daddy now along with many other loved ones. I know that you are home. But we miss you here and surely, you feel all of our love for you.

I still hear your stories, i hear you giggling. I just want to say i love you more than words can say, and wish we could dance around together for a lifetime again.

Today, our hearts are with you and Norma, your dear sweet mama, grandchildren- & countless family and friends. And i'm asking you to please "Watch over us."

I know you rest but you're not sleeping,

So much in awe at what you're seeing.

So join us there now, gather around,

Let us gather here and all call out

A Blessing to heal Norma~ she needs

A TRUE MIRACLE, Today! "Now."

- God PLEASE bless Norma "today".

~ She's lost too much already. ♥♥♥

Send comfort for your baby girl today.

She needs our support. -Now.

Bless you Norma.

I love you.

-You call- I'm THERE.!

“ Norma, Jody and I are so sorry for your loss. I remember when we used to come to visit we would stay with your mom and dad.

She always made sure you had a good time whole there. I remember the 1st time she made tomato gravy for us and got me hooked.

Loved just sitting out back with the 2 of them and catching up on life. She is now with your dad and in no more pain.

We love you guys.

“ Debbie had the most infectious laugh. She loved my brother more than she loved herself.

I will never forget how she cared for him during his last days. Some of my fondest memories were family gatherings when Debbie always brought the FEEL GOOD dishes. She had a real flare for making it Southern.

I do love you sweet sister!
