Comments

“ To Imogene and your family,

I was sorry to learn of Harley's death. I'll always remember him playing golf while we swam in the old Lithia Springs swimming pool. He would come get a cool drink. He was there when I pulled a friend from the pool when he was knocked out doing a dive. Harley helped until an ambulance arrived

I will keep you and his family in my prayers.

“ Deanie, Chris, Shanon & family,
Sending lots of thoughts and prayers your way. I know it's been a long time since I've seen you all, but I do remember the "good ole days". He was loved by many and showered us all with his infectious personality. I know he will truly be missed. I'm sure that Mama and Daddy were waiting with open arms. Mama's probably talking basketball with him and Daddy is probably talking like Gomer Pyle...Just know I'm thinking of you all and sending all my love your way...Judy Pritchett Smith (and on behalf of Mama (Edna) and Daddy (Herschel)...Love you all “ Harley was always a man who would fix what you have that's broken or build whatever it is you needed. No job was ever too big or too small. He was also always right, no matter what. One of the first times I ever worked along side Harley was to build a fence in Shanon's backyard for her dogs. After I dug all the post holes (I think) over one weekend, Harley joined me the following weekend to place the posts and put up the fencing. Now, Harley was a pretty big guy and used a pretty big hammer which became a bit too heavy for me after a while. So naturally, I began to hold the hammer toward the middle instead of on the end so it took a few more whacks than he wanted. Numerous times he kept shaking his head at me and told me I was hammering it all wrong and that I needed to hold the hammer right. Well, I was getting tired of listening to this and knew I needed to stand strong but try and be somewhat respectful. So the next time he told me to do it right, I gathered my courage and asked him, "Harley is the nail going in the post"? He replied "yeah I guess so". I slowly stood up, stared him directly in the eyes and calmly said "then it ain't wrong" and I went back to work. Despite the look of anger on his face, I think I earned a little bit of respect that day.

Love you big guy!

“ We were deeply saddent to hear of the passing of Harley. I first met Harley & Deanie when they moved to Austell Road in 1960 very close to where we lived. I visited Harley & Deanie on a number of ocasions to invite them to Church and Sunday School at Orange Hill where we attended. Many fond memories of thoes visits I have recalled over the years.

Deanie Myself & Libby want to express our deepest sympathy, during this very sad time.

You Are In Our Prayers
