“ My dad was the most wonderful man I have ever known. His capacity for patience and caring leaves me in awe. I am so thankful that he is finally at rest with Jesus. Through all the trials and troubles that this life offers my dad never lost his faith in God. He was always thankful to God for everything. He never thought of himself first even when his leaving was at hand. Dad, you gave us everything that you had without reservation. You gave us your love, your patience and your guidance. Most importantly, you shared your love of Jesus Christ with everyone you knew, and the truth of what it means to be "born again". You gave us your all, and it was enough. What we do with it is up to us. Your heroes were Roy Rogers and John Wayne.....Daddy I hope that you knew that mine is and always was you! I love you Daddy!

“ Jimmy was one of the sweetest and kindest men, and we were honored to be called his friends. We know Jimmy is now in Heaven and celebrating with his Lord, reuniting with his loved ones (lucky Kim!!) and that one day we will be with him again. Our prayers and thoughts of sincere sympathy go out to his family, friends and loved ones, especially Marie who he loved so much and who loved him back the same way. Marie was by his side, taking perfect care of him until the end.
