“ Kevin will be missed. Met him as my trainer at the IRS. Had such great energy and was very knowledgeable. Loved his themed earring he would wear during the holidays. What a sense of humor! We saw you fight to live and it was inspiring. Rest in Peace Kevin!

“ Kevin was a great human being and will be missed. I met him in the fall of 2013 through work. He was always available and just with the easiest personality. He was also passionate and you would know because he would light up and fill the room with his exuberance. Peace be with you brother and prayers with your family. JG

“ Kevin was absolutely my best friend. I could write for hours about the times we shared together. We met in college and shared a deep appreciation for reading and collecting books. Over the years, we would travel to various locations to hunt for books and also to many many science fiction conventions. No matter what the situation, Kevin would always be there for me to lean on and just purely enjoy each other's company. My love of reading expanded exponentially having known Kevin. Sooo many times he would suggest something to read, or better yet, give me a stack of books. There will never be another like him. I'm having a tough time writing this, because I hurt so much and miss him terribly. It's hard to lose your best friend.

“ Kevin was a good friend and co-worker to me and the entire team. He willingly shared his knowledge to those willing to listen. Our conversations included a smile and a glimpse of Kevin's witty sense of humor. It was honor to have known him. Thank you.

“ Kevin has been one of my closest friends for years since we've been working together. He was a beloved classroom instructor and coach at work for about 10 years, sharing his vast knowledge and brilliance with so many employees. He will be truly missed by his colleagues and we are heartbroken. Sending condolences and love to his family.

“ Kevin was a co-worker, mentor, and fellow book enthusiasts. Heck, I'm still working on a list of books he sent me a year ago. He was definitely one of a kind with his knowledge and personal outlook on life. Truly a treasure to those who knew him or have had the distinct pleasure of conversing with him. My prayers are with everyone burdened by this loss.

“ Kevin was my best friend back in high school, he was a great guy. He was extremely bright and his heart was always in the right place. I wish I'd kept in touch with him better in the past decade, this news is a terrible shock to me.

“ A great friend of mine during our high school days who unknowingly inspired me to strive harder in life, to accomplish things and not settle. Kevin read a book a day and is among the smarter people I've ever met. I wish we'd stayed in touch all these years.
